LIBERAL REUNION NOT PROMOTED AT LEEDS.

THE EGYPTIAN SITUATION CLEARER—ANXIETY ABOUT BULGARIA—MR. CHAPLIN OPPOSES MAJORITY CIO-USE—LIBRARY NOTES.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The Leeds Conference has adopted the line expected of it. Without definitely rejecting the dissident Liberals it has declared for such a platform as makes it impossible for them to co-operate. "The Old Man" and "The Old Cause," which were the watchwords of the occasion, are impossible to the dissidents, and for the moment all talk of reunion is also impossible. Moreover the cleavage is increasing in other ways. The party platform adopted at Leeds for the first time includes such radical projects as Disestablishment in Wales and a general though hazy declaration of religious equality all around; likewise free schools and non-interference in European affairs. One need hardly remark that apart from the project of an Irish Legislature this Liberal programme must be far too advanced for Lord Hartington and his Whig allies. In another direction the Conference has done an act which must keep the Home Rulers and the Chamberlain section apart for a long time to come. Mr. John Morley's speech, delivered from written notes after a visit to Hawarden, suggests the origin of the attack upon Mr. Chamberlain. For the first time a leading public man has declared Mr. Chamberlain to be at the head of a combination to expel Mr. Gladstone from political life, and the whole Liberal party, as represented at Leeds, declared by its thundering applause that it will revenge itself on the authors of such a conspiracy.

The Egyptian question is likely to be a few days to assume a calmer phase. During the week the Cabinet has discussed a note from certain of the Powers making inquiries as to the British occupation and the results of the last two years' work under the London Convention. It is not difficult to detect the origin of this movement. France, aided by Russia, thought the effect of a collective note would be greater than her individual action. Lord Idlesheim has submitted to his colleagues an important dispatch which covers the whole present situation in Egypt and answers the points of inquiry so as to disarm any form of interference such as might have arisen next spring under the London Convention. After an interview between the Prime Minister and Lord Hartington, the Cabinet have agreed to a declaration which adopts the promises of their predecessors with regard to the objects and duration of the occupation. On the line of these promises they have taken firm ground in saying that while no precise date can be named for withdrawal, there is no intention on the part of England to enter on any act of annexation of Egypt. This will satisfy most of the Powers, though it may not please France, who has been eager on by Russia in order that the latter may not find England too close at hand when she proceeds beyond the Balkans. In connection with this the Sultan's remark to Mr. Chamberlain at Constantinople yesterday, that it would be his and England's duty to take care no other Power stepped into the place of England when she withdrew from the Nile, is significant. The Guildhall banquet speeches may throw light on this and the Balkan questions.

We have yet to learn the nature of certain informal overtures made to Austria by England with Bismarck's assent for the purpose of checking Russia's proceedings in Bulgaria. Whether these were more than the mere soundings so common between the Powers and often fruitless, it is doubtful, but a natural curiosity there is great to know how far Lord Salisbury thinks he can go with the co-operation of Lord Hartington's party. With the details of incidents in Bulgaria, even to the last conspiracy by Russian agents at Burgas, we are already familiar. Here, public opinion concludes that short of absolute compulsion by Hungary, Austria will do nothing in any case, and it is openly said that the overtures made by England to Austria are intended to note the found no response. It is interesting to note the flood of appeals now made to Mr. Gladstone by Bulgarians; but the pressure is changed. If Turkey had been the aggressor, the Right Honorable gentleman might have started on a new crusade.

Mr. Henry Chaplin once more has run up the flag of revolt. His last night's speech at Radcliffe is a distinct oval of Lord Randolph Churchill's proposed closure by a bare majority. He traverses Lord Randolph's arguments at Bradford and in some respects vindicates Mr. Gladstone from Lord Randolph's attacks. He is, however, willing to accept closure by a two-thirds majority, and this plan is most likely to meet with the general approval of the House.

The Prince of Wales has increased the number of the Committee of Advice, he had to choose between going forward with the Imperial Institute scheme and dropping it altogether. A few days ago this latter contingency was probable, for his Royal Highness almost despaired of carrying the project through. His quarrel with Sir Philip Cunliffe-Owen arose out of the latter proposing a testimonial scheme to the Prince, which had to be abandoned.

Recent Government experiments with torpedoes show that those which are propelled like the "fish" or Whitehead weapon are far less dangerous than those which are generally supposed to be. The Government have approved and are on the point of concluding the purchase of Brennan's torpedo, which is thirty or forty feet long, like a small submarine boat, can be steered against the tide or made to chase the enemy's ship, and carries an enormous charge. It is expected that the Government will give Mr. Brennan $500,000 for it.

Mr. Algernon Charles Swinburne has written a remarkable contribution to The Quarterly Review. He professes to have been unaware of Mr. Churton Collins's severe attacks upon him, criticizes Mr. Collins's "schoolboy style," and describes that gentleman as the poorest of pupils. He regards The Quarterly as a useful vehicle for gossip of gastronomy and babble of the backstairs, but as a literary journal only pour rien.

Literary circles have another sensation. An anonymous writer, "Vo Clamant," accuses Lord Tennyson of plagiarism in the poem "Columbus" published six years ago. The critic shows that eleven years ago a poem on "Columbus at Seville" was written by Joseph Ellis, and the similarity of the two is remarkable.

One of the most interesting books recently published is Count Vitzthum's Memoirs. Count Vitzthum von Eckstadt was the Saxon Minister at London from 1853 to 1864, and this work is supplementary in many respects to the Memoirs of Stockmar, Greville and Malmesbury and will prove a great attraction in the literary and diplomatic world.

Hobart Pacha's Autobiography, especially that portion relating to blockade-running, will greatly interest Americans.

The British Admiralty assents to an exploration of the depths of the Pacific from Vancouver to Fiji for the projected cable.

There is expected to be a great run upon Lord Selbourne's new work in defence of the Church against Disestablishment and Disendowment. His preface, addressed to Mr. Gladstone, is expected to be particularly piquant.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

AUSTRIA'S EFFORTS IN BEHALF OF BULGARIA—THE SPEECH OF HER EMPEROR.

BUDA-PESTH, Nov. 6.—Emperor Francis Joseph addressed the Delegations to-day. He declared that Austria, in union with the other Powers, was endeavoring to localize the Bulgarian disturbances and to find a way to re-establish law and order in Bulgaria. He said he hoped the legal constitution of the Bulgarians would soon be restored, with all allowance for the law aspirations of the Bulgarians as was consistent with Austria's interests.

Emperor Joseph received the Austrian and Hungarian Delegations in the Turin Hall of the castle. In his speech he said:

It is regrettable that the complications in Bulgaria, which originated in 1885 from over-zealous and serious apprehensions, the Powers by united efforts have succeeded in localizing the movement and preventing a general outbreak of a local state of affairs, but recent events, especially the fresh and unprovoked attacks on the peaceful population of the Bulgarian provinces, occupy at the present moment the full attention of my government, whose efforts are directed to attain in a final and permanent manner the peaceful solution of the Bulgarian question. Our one and only aim must be effected in co-operation with the other Powers, an agreement that there shall be created an autonomous principality and a legal state in Bulgaria, which, while it takes into account the admissible wishes of the Bulgarians, shall equally conform with the interests of the Empire and the neighboring States. of this city, was elected a member of the secretariat and treasurer of the new club, vice Lordington Williams resigned. The salary is $1,100. Mr. Gray has accepted the place. The election was a surprise to him. He was formerly editor of the Commercial and retired five or six years ago, his health having been impaired by a stroke. Senator Rogers, Mr. Durand, and Mr. Anderson, the "commissioners," were unanimous in the matter of his election.

RAILROAD INTERESTS.

INDIANA, BLOOMINGTON AND WESTERN RAILROAD.

The reorganization committee of the Indiana, Bloomington and Western Railway Company made public its plan for the reconstruction of the company yesterday. The committee believes that a foreclosure sale is necessary, because the company has contracted a large floating debt, which it is unable to pay out of its revenues. The committee proposes the organization of a new company and the consolidation of all the Ohio companies. New general mortgage 5 percent bonds are to be issued to take up the divisional mortgages and new stock in place of the junior securities and stock of the several companies. The total value of the present stock is to be assessed 7 percent, to be paid in two installments. The bonds are to be deposited with the Central Trust Company. The new company is to have a capital of $1,000,000. The stock will be given in exchange for the old stock. The new company will take the place of the present stock that shall be taken up. The new first mortgage bonds will be used to take up the old mortgage bonds. The new company will have a capital of $1,000,000. The stock will be given in exchange for the old stock. The new company will take the place of the present stock that shall be taken up. The new first mortgage bonds will be used to take up the old mortgage bonds. The new company will have a capital of $1,000,000. The stock will be given in exchange for the old stock. The new company will take the place of the present stock that shall be taken up.
